

	John McGivney Children's Centre School Authority Governance - Policy	P 1001
	Trustee Code of Conduct

The John McGivney Children's Centre School Authority expects of itself and its Trustees, ethical and businesslike conduct. This commitment includes the proper use of authority and respect as an individual and as part of a group, when acting as board members.

The Board of Trustees delineates its expectations and the consequences for failing to meet said expectations through this policy and the attendant procedures. It intends to signal to the Trustees, the staff and the public that the Board conducts itself in a transparent and even-handed manner and recognizes the public trust and responsibility that the collective body carries and that this responsibility is honoured through determining norms of acceptable behavior. Further, it is the spirit of this policy that the Trustees are held to a higher standard and shall conduct themselves accordingly.
