COMMUNICATION CORNER

The holidays provide many opportunities for your children to interact and use their core words and communication devices in natural situations. While trimming the tree, they might want a turn or need help with putting on decorations. With gifts, they can guess what is in the box or ask to open it. With holiday music or movies, your children can request to play more or you can play go and stop by turning the DVD/ CD on and off.

With all of the wonderful activities and sights, the holidays are also the perfect time to encourage your children to comment on or choose when given a choice of two on what is fun or whether they like things or not. Their answers might surprise you! This is a great way to prepare your children for a lifetime of meaningful communication!

A reminder to also check out our school PARENT PORTAL for news and updates, as well as our Google Classroom. Activities and photographs of the children are updated weekly.

Happy Holidays,
