Parent Guide to Special Education

Introduction

The purpose of this parents' guide is to provide you with information about Special Education at the John McGivney School Authority..

About John McGivney School Authority (JMSA)

We are dedicated to child-centred, personalized, and precise education that provides assessment and instruction designed to meet your child's particular learning and motivational needs. We have exemplary teachers, exceptional support staff, and rehabilitation personnel to meet your child's individual needs. Please take a few moments to browse our site, www.johnmcgivneyschool.com and learn more about the JMSA.

Our goals at JMSA are to:

- work with all stakeholders in establishing precise, measureable rehabilitative and academic goals;
- provide the highest quality programming to meet individual student needs;
- maximize student development in functional communication, literacy, numeracy, and social skills;
- continue to forge strong working relationships with local school boards and community partners to enable successful transitions into community schools;
- continue to foster a culture of collaboration with families and centre staff;
- provide continued support beyond transition to community schools;
- provide programming to optimize success for ALL students.

JMSA Admission Criteria:

Students admitted to the JMSA must have a diagnosis of a physical disability and other associated complex needs. Students must also meet the following criteria:

- Reside within Essex County
- Are between the ages of 4 (by December 31st of the current school year) and 21 years of age
- Demonstrate complex needs in 3 or more of the following areas:
  - ❖ Physiotherapy (moderate to severe impairment in gross motor development)
  - ❖ Occupational Therapy (moderate to severe impairment in fine motor development and functional or daily living skills)
  - ❖ Speech and Language Therapy ( moderate to severe impairment in receptive, expressive language and/or developing speech)
- Students must demonstrate the ability to participate in an individualized program focused on literacy, numeracy, social emotional, and classroom based occupational, physical and communication therapies.

Referrals are through therapists at the John McGivney Children’s Centre (JMCC). For a student to be eligible for enrollment at the School Authority, the student must be a client of the JMCC and receive therapeutic services while enrolled at the School Authority.

Students who may require a medically protected environment due to post/traumatic, postoperative, or due to medical fragility may be eligible. Eligibility will be reviewed on an individual basis.

For further information about the JMCC School, please call the School Office at 519-977-2200.

Program Process

- observation/assessment
- team planning
- development of Individual Education Plan (IEP)
- ongoing evaluation
- formal annual review

The Demission Criteria

A student is transitioned out to a local school board when:

- assessment has been completed;
- medically stable and no longer requires a protective environment;
- rehabilitation and educational goals have been met and/or can be continued in a community school.

What are Special Education Programs?

A Special Education Program is defined in the Education Act as a program that:

- is based on and modified by the results of continuous assessment and evaluation;
- includes a plan (called an Individual Education Plan or IEP) containing specific objectives and an outline of special education services that meet the needs of the exceptional pupil.

What is a Special Education Service?

Special Education services are defined in the Education Act as the facilities and resources, including support personnel and equipment, necessary for developing and implementing a special education program.

What is an Individual Education Plan?

An Individual Education Plan (IEP) is a written plan of action. It is a working document which describes the strengths and needs of an individual exceptional pupil and the special education program and services established to meet the pupil's needs. An IEP is developed for students who may require curriculum adaptations for their specific learning needs. It creates opportunities for parents, teachers, and others involved with the student to collaboratively identify individual learning needs and to develop specific teaching and learning strategies and/or curriculum adaptations which will address these needs.

The IEP must be developed for your child, in consultation with you. It includes:

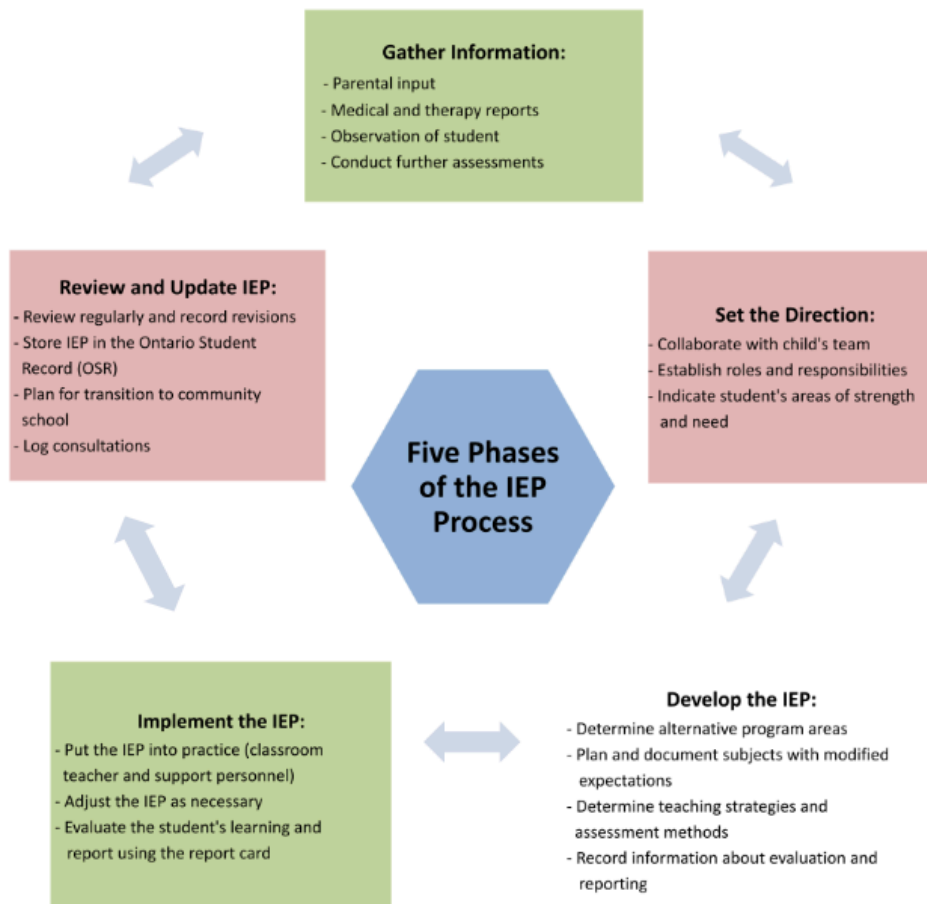

- specific educational expectations;
- an outline of the special education program and services that will be received;
- a statement about the methods by which your child's progress will be reviewed; and
- a plan for transition.

The IEP must be completed within 30 school days after your child has been placed in the program, and the principal must ensure that you receive a copy of it. As important partners, parents/guardians are encouraged to actively participate in the development of the individual education plan and to sign it once completed. JMSA teachers hold meetings with parents/guardians and centre therapists to collaboratively develop IEP goals to meet the individual needs of each of their students.

What happens once an Individual Education Plan is in place?

The Individual Education Plan will evolve as a student grows and matures. Within each term, a student's goals and needs are reviewed. Regular communication with the parents is essential to the success of the IEP.

Five Phases of the IEP Process at JMSA

What is an Identification Placement and Review Committee?

Regulation 181/98 requires that all school boards set up Identification Placement and Review Committees (IPRCs). An IPRC is composed of at least three persons, one of whom must be a Principal or Supervisory Officer of the board.

IPRCs at JMSA

Students who attend the John McGivney School Authority meet the admission criteria and are on the caseload of the John McGivney Children's Centre. Parents must agree to the school placement as opposed to placement within a local district school board. Placement is short term and goal specific for children who have both a physical and neurological disability.

In an effort to streamline processes for parents and avoid duplication the IPRC process does not occur except at the request of parents in accordance with Regulation 181/98.

The School Authority only provides Special Education services to a specific group of identified students and does not provide for services for all exceptionalities.

The number of referrals to the school program varies from year to year depending on local demographic needs. Students admitted to the program since 2005 have not received an IPRC.

For students who have had an IPRC, parents receive notification of the process. Most students in JMSA are identified as having either physical or multiple exceptionalities. Each parent receives a copy of our "Parent Guide to Special Education."

Parents may request team meetings at any time.

What is the role of the IPRC?

The IPRC will

- determine whether or not your child should be identified as exceptional;
- identify the areas of your child's exceptionality, according to the categories and definitions of exceptionalities provided by the Ministry of Education;
- decide an appropriate placement for your child and review the identification and placement at least once in each school year.

Who is identified as an Exceptional Pupil?

The Education Act defines an exceptional pupil as "a pupil who's behavioral, communicational, intellectual, physical, and/or multiple exceptionalities are such that he or she is considered to need placement in a special education program." Students are identified according to the categories and definition of exceptionalities provided by the Ministry of Education.

IPRC Ontario Ministry of Education Categories of Exceptionalities and Definitions

The following are the five categories of exceptionality recognized by the province of Ontario and used in Identification Placement and Review Committee (IPRC) meetings. There may be some flexibility within the categories for the purposes of identifying a student as “exceptional” under the Ministry definition.

Ontario Ministry of Education Categories

Communication

Learning Disability

The Ministry of Education defines learning disability as one of a number of neurodevelopmental disorders that persistently and significantly has an impact on the ability to learn and use academic and other skills and that:

- affects the ability to perceive and process verbal or non-verbal information in an effective and accurate manner in students who have assessed intellectual abilities that are at least in the average range;
- results in (a) academic underachievement that is inconsistent with the intellectual abilities of the student (which are at least in the average range) and/or (b) academic achievement that can be maintained by the student only with extremely high levels of effort and/or with additional support; results in difficulties in the development and use of skills in one or more of the following areas: reading, writing, mathematics, and work habits and learning skills;
- may typically be associated with difficulties in one or more cognitive processes, such as phonological processing; memory and attention; processing speed; perceptual-motor processing; visual spatial processing; executive functions (e.g., self-regulation of behaviours and emotions, planning, organizing of thoughts and activities, prioritizing, decision making);
- may be associated with difficulties in social interaction (e.g., difficulty in understanding social norms or the point of view of others); with various other conditions or disorders, diagnosed or undiagnosed; or with other exceptionalities;
- is not the result of a lack of acuity in hearing and/or vision that has not been corrected; intellectual disabilities; socio-economic factors; cultural differences; lack of proficiency in the language of instruction; lack of motivation or effort; gaps in school attendance or inadequate opportunity to benefit from instruction.

Deaf and Hard-of-Hearing

An impairment characterized by deficits in language and speech development because of a diminished or non-existent auditory response to sound.

Language Impairment

A learning disorder characterized by impairment in comprehension and/or the use of verbal communication or the written or other symbol system of communication, which may be associated with neurological, psychological, physical, or sensory factors, and which may:

- involve one or more of the form, content, and function of language in communication; and
- include one or more of: language delay; dysfluency; voice and articulation development, which may or may not be organically or functionally based.

Speech Impairment

A disorder in language formulation that may be associated with neurological, psychological, physical, or sensory factors; that involves perceptual motor aspects of transmitting oral messages; and that may be characterized by impairment in articulation, rhythm, and stress.

Autism

A severe learning disorder that is characterized by disturbances in:

- rate of educational development;
- ability to relate to the environment;
- mobility;
- perception, speech, and language;
- representational symbolic behaviour that precedes language.

Intellectual

Giftedness

An unusually advanced degree of general intellectual ability that requires differentiated learning experiences of a depth and breadth beyond those normally provided in the regular school program to satisfy the level of educational potential indicated.

Mild Intellectual Disability

A learning disorder characterized by:

- an ability to profit educationally within a regular class with the aid of considerable curriculum modification and supportive service;
- an inability to profit educationally within a regular class because of slow intellectual development;
- a potential for academic learning, independent social adjustment, and economic self-support.

Developmental Disability

A severe learning disorder characterized by:

- an inability to profit from a special education program for students with mild intellectual disabilities because of slow intellectual development;
- an ability to profit from a special education program that is designed to accommodate slow intellectual development;
- a limited potential for academic learning, independent social adjustment, and economic self-support.

Physical

Physical Disability

A condition of such severe physical limitation or deficiency as to require special assistance in learning situations to provide the opportunity for educational achievement equivalent to that of pupils without exceptionalities who are of the same age or development level.

Blind and Low Vision

A condition of partial or total impairment of sight or vision that even with correction affects educational performance adversely.

Behaviour

A learning disorder characterized by specific behaviour problems over such a period of time, and to such a marked degree, and of such a nature, as to adversely affect educational performance, and that may be accompanied by one or more of the following:

- an inability to build or to maintain interpersonal relationships;
- excessive fears or anxieties;
- a tendency to compulsive reaction or;
- an inability to learn that cannot be traced to intellectual, sensory or other health factors, or any combination thereof.

Multiple

A combination of learning or other disorders, impairments, or physical disabilities that is of such a nature as to require, for educational achievement, the services of one or more teachers holding qualifications in special education and the provision of support services appropriate for such disorders, impairments, or disabilities.

Learning Knows No Bounds

What are the Ministry's Provincial and Demonstration Schools?

The Ministry of Education (MOE) operates Provincial and Demonstration Schools throughout Ontario for deaf, blind, deaf-blind, and severely learning-disabled students, as well as those with attention deficit hyperactivity disorder (ADHD).

Residential programs are offered at the schools Monday to Friday, for students who live too far from school to travel daily.

Provincial Schools and Provincial Demonstration Schools:

- are operated by the MOE;
- provide education for students who are deaf or blind, or who have severe learning disabilities;
- provide an alternative education option;
- serve as regional resource centers for students who are deaf, blind, or deaf-blind;
- provide school board teachers with resource services;
- play a valuable role in teacher training.

Provincial Schools for the Deaf

The following Provincial Schools offer services for deaf and hard-of-hearing students:

- Sir James Whitney School for the Deaf in Belleville (serving eastern Ontario);
- Ernest C. Drury School for the Deaf in Milton (serving central and northern Ontario);
- Robarts School for the Deaf in London (serving western Ontario);
- Centre Jules-Léger in Ottawa (serving francophone students and families throughout Ontario).

Admittance to a Provincial School is determined by the Provincial Schools Admission Committee in accordance with the requirements set out in Regulation 296.

These schools provide elementary and secondary school programs for deaf students from preschool level to high school graduation. The curriculum follows the Ontario curriculum and parallels courses and programs provided in school boards. Each student has their special needs met as set out in their Individual Education Plan (IEP).

Schools for the deaf:

- provide rich and supportive bilingual/bicultural educational environments which facilitate students' language acquisition, learning, and social development through American Sign Language (ASL) and English;
- operate primarily as day schools;
- provide residential facilities five days per week for those students who do not live within a reasonable commuting distance from the school.

Transportation to Provincial Schools for students is provided by school boards.

Each school has a Resource Services Department which provides:

- consultation and educational advice to parents of deaf and hard-of-hearing children and school board personnel;

- information brochures;
- a wide variety of workshops for parents, school boards and other agencies;
- an extensive home-visiting program delivered to parents of deaf and hard-of-hearing preschool children by teachers trained in preschool and deaf education.

Provincial Demonstration Schools

The MOE provides the services of four Provincial Demonstration Schools for Ontario Children with severe learning disabilities.

- Amethyst School
- Centre Jules-Léger
- Sagonaska School
- Trillium School

Each Provincial Demonstration School has an enrolment of forty students. The language of instruction at the Amethyst, Sagonaska, and Trillium schools is English; at Centre Jules-Léger, instruction is in French.

Application for admission to a provincial Demonstration School is made on behalf of students by the school board, with parental consent. The Provincial Committee on Learning Disabilities (PCLD) determines whether a student is eligible for admission.

Although the primary responsibility to provide appropriate educational programs for students with learning disabilities remains with school boards, the Ministry recognizes that some students require a residential school setting for a period of time.

The Demonstration Schools were established to:

- provide special residential education programs for students between ages of 5 to 21 years;
- enhance the development of each student's academic and social skills;
- develop the abilities of the students enrolled to a level that will enable them to return to programs operated by a local school board within two years.

In addition to providing residential schooling for students with severe learning disabilities, the Provincial Demonstration Schools have special programs for students with severe learning disabilities in association with attention-deficit/hyperactivity disorder (ADD/ADHD). These are highly intensive, one-year programs.

W. Ross Macdonald School: School for the Blind and Deaf-Blind

W. Ross MacDonald School is located in Brantford and provides education for students who are blind, visually impaired, or deaf-blind. The school provides:

- a provincial resource centre for the visually impaired and deaf-blind;
- support to local school boards through consultation and the provision of special learning materials, such as Braille materials, audiotapes, and large-print textbooks;

- professional services and guidance to ministers of education on an interprovincial, cooperative basis.

Programs are tailored to the needs of the individual student and:

- are designed to help these students learn to live independently in a non-sheltered environment;
- are delivered by specially trained teachers;
- follow the Ontario curriculum developed for all students in the province;
- offer courses in special subject areas such as music, broad-based technology, family studies, physical education, and mobility training;
- are individualized, to offer a comprehensive “life skills” program;
- provide through home visiting for parents and families of preschool deaf-blind children to assist in preparing these children for future education.
