Mrs.T

Mouse Paint by Ellen Stoll Walsh

Music: Action songs

Routines: Hand washing

Art

In art class we explored primary colours and read the story Mouse Paint. We had a fun experiment to see what would happen when we mixed primary colours. We also used a flannel story to ask questions and spark interest in learning about primary and secondary colours.

Welcome Back

Welcome back to an exciting yet very different year. For those of you I have not had the pleasure of meeting Mrs. Targachoff. The students know me as Mrs.T. I am the Art and Music Rotary Teacher. I have been teaching for over 10 years. This will be my third year teaching the arts. Your students will experience the arts for fifty minute per day. I'm hoping to add some learning and fun to this moment in time. Perhaps a smile or two. The staff of JMCCSA is so excited to have you back in school this year. The goal is safety first so there has been a great deal of thought and effort put into changes to accomplish this. One of the reminders implemented is in the form of a flannel story of hand washing along with a catchy rhyme promoting hygiene and routine. As another prompt I put together a puppet show on the importance of getting those gross germs off our hands.

Music

We started the year off by introducing students to their personal bag of homemade instruments that Mrs.T created over the summer. Every student was given their own individual scarf, egg shaker, bells and rhythm sticks. We took some time to explore the bags and then moved on to learning some actions to familiar songs implementing these instruments. Mrs. T created a Google Classroom that all will be invited to soon. There will be access to most of the songs we use in class. There will be pictures and video as well as links to some interactive sites, contact information and an array of information in the Google classroom.
